

Harold St. John—Career Synopsis and Bibliography

Harold St. John was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, 25 July 1892. He received the A.B. degree Cum Laude in 1914, the A.M. in 1915, and the Ph.D. in 1917, all from Harvard University. During his years in Cambridge he was also Assistant in Botany at Harvard and Radcliffe (1913–1915), Assistant Botanist for the Canadian Geological Survey (1915; 1917), and Assistant at Harvard's Gray Herbarium (1913–1917; 1919–1920).

From 1920 to 1929 Dr. St. John was affiliated with the State College of Washington (now Washington State University), first as Assistant Professor of Botany (1920–1923) and subsequently as Associate Professor and Curator of the Herbarium (1923–1929).

Dr. St. John taught at the University of Hawaii for twenty-nine years. He was Professor of Botany from 1929 to 1950, Senior Professor of Botany from 1950 to 1958, and served two terms as Chairman of the Botany Department (1929–1940; 1943–1954). In addition, he was Associate Director of the Manoa (now Lyon) Arboretum from 1953 to 1957, and served as Arboretum Director from 1957 to 1958.

He was a Visiting Professor at Yale University from 1938 to 1939. After his retirement from the University of Hawaii, Dr. St. John held professorships at Chatham College, Pittsburgh (1958–1959), and at the Université de Saigon and Université de Hue in Vietnam (1959–1961). In 1963 he was Fulbright Professor at Cairo University.

He is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and of the Linnean Society of London.

His memberships include the Botanical Society of America, Botanical Society of Japan (honorary), Hawaiian Academy of Science, Hawaiian Botanical Society, New England Botanical Club, Phi Beta Kappa, Philadelphia Botanical Club, Sigma Xi, and the Torrey Botanical Club. He was President of the Hawaiian Botanical Society during 1932 and 1933, and of the Hawaiian Academy of Science in 1947 and 1948.

Founder and first editor of Research Studies, State College of Washington, Dr. St. John has also served on the Board of Editors of Pacific Science.

He has made botanical explorations of eastern Canada, the eastern and north-western United States, Hawaii, eastern Polynesia, Micronesia, Melanesia, southeastern Asia, the Indian Ocean, and tropical Africa. In 1943 and 1944, he served the Foreign Economic Administration, United States Government, as an explorer for quinine in the Andes of Colombia.

Since 1929 Dr. St. John has been affiliated with the Bernice P. Bishop Museum in Honolulu, where today he continues his botanical studies. He has also served on the Scientific Advisory Committee of the Pacific Tropical Botanical Garden from its inception in 1971.
